

2010 Storeroom

- Furniture from Storeroom is available to everyone. For clients currently with a support agency, ask your key worker to refer you to Storeroom. For clients currently between jobs, ask your Job Centre Plus to refer you to Storeroom.
- Storeroom helps people across our island community who do not have the means to furnish their homes with new items.
- Unfortunately as the stock is constantly changing, Storeroom cannot guarantee availability of any particular items.
- Please bear in mind all Storeroom stock is donated and may not always be in perfect condition.

Helping the Community

Monies raised are used to support the Storeroom project, vulnerable people in our Island community and contributes towards the provision of our Men in Sheds project.

Men in SHEDS

Open: Monday to Friday – 10am-3pm
50 weeks a year

What is a Men's Shed? It's a place to pursue practical interests at leisure, to practice skills and enjoy making, mending or upcycling. Rather than being in your shed or garage at home in solitude, a Men's Shed is quite the opposite.

Storeroom Shed has a carpentry workshop and an outside space with two polytunnels for adventures in horticulture.

Make social connections, build new friendships, share skills and knowledge, laugh, talk about your troubles and drink tea – or coffee! Meet like minded people, gain a renewed sense of purpose and belonging.

Happy Shedding!

Help us to turn your old furniture into something that serves a purpose once more!

The Storeroom project is a proactive charitable organisation priding itself on its strong sense of community spirit.

Storeroom collects items of reusable furniture (compliant with Fire Safety in the case of soft furnishings) then offers it at low cost to the Island community who are not able to furnish their own homes with new items.

Furniture donated by Island residents may otherwise have been taken to the landfill site, so this also minimises the impact on the environment. Storeroom offers Island residents this recycling opportunity to really help their community and the environment.

An Island charity dedicated to helping Island people

Open to everyone

Our warehouse and shop are both open to the general public and to referred clients from various support agencies. The referred clients are offered a further discount on furniture. Generally, referred clients can make savings of 30-50% on purchases made.

If you are on low income, cannot resist a bargain, or a keen upcycler – visit Storeroom. We may have just what you need. All purchases help keep this valuable Island project open to everyone.

The process is simple!

If you have any furniture, ready for immediate re-use that would suit our project, please call Storeroom on 01983 298679.

All items need to be in reasonable condition and compliant to Fire Safety regulations.
